

Pheasants Forever Wildlife Scholarship/Stipend

The Nebraska chapters of Pheasants Forever, Inc. and Quail Forever are pleased to announce a new scholarship that is available to support students in the wildlife field. The annual award was developed in memory of William L. Baxter, long-time employee of the Nebraska Game & Parks Commission who was a champion of early ring-necked pheasant research and strong conservation programs associated with the Federal farm bill.

The annual award is designed to support the following activities:

- Students pursuing a graduate degree in the wildlife field at any accredited graduate school in the United States. Applications are not limited to, but priority will be given to schools located in or work be conducted in the Midwest.
- $1,000.00 annual award. Awards are distributed in February of each year.
- Funding is in addition to any assistantships, stipends or scholarships already received.
- Applications are not limited to, but priority will be given to applications and proposals related to upland game bird life ecology, habitats, genetics and management.

This scholarship/stipend will be presented on an annual basis. Application materials are available at: www.NebraskaPF.com or at:
